

How does the support system work?

Personal Support Partnerships

All TeachBeyond workers are responsible to find a group of partners who will pray for them, encourage them and give financially to support them in their work. We need to discover funds to cover both the salary we receive and the ordinary expenses we incur through our work.

Each year, each team member or couple prepares a budget for the amount of support they will need for the coming year. Salaries are fixed according to organisational policies, and are incremented according to age and the numbers and ages of dependent children.

As you consider investing in the support of one of our team members, ask God how much you could contribute on a regular basis. Special one-off gifts are also appreciated since expenses are not spread evenly over the year, but pledged monthly or quarterly gifts form the foundation of our team's financial support.

General Costs

The costs of running TeachBeyond's day-to-day ministry are met in a variety of ways, including appeals for special projects, but many of these ongoing expenses come from regular donations from individual Christians.

How can I give?

By Standing Order

For regular giving, this is by far the best method, since it ensures regularity and saves bank and postal charges. Complete the Bankers Order Form enclosed and send it to our UK Office (address overleaf), not to your bank please.

By Cheque or Postal Order

For either single or regular gifts, send cheques made payable to TeachBeyond, indicating on the enclosed donation slip how you want your gift to be used.

CAF/UKET Vouchers/Cards

You can still use vouchers or charity cards to make donations. For more information, please contact CAF, UKET or our office.

By Legacy

Details of how to make a gift to TeachBeyond in your will through TeachBeyond can be obtained from the TeachBeyond office or from your own solicitor.

Payroll Giving

Under the payroll giving scheme, employees can authorise their employer to deduct charitable donations from their pay before deducting income tax.
